FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GOLDSBORO, N.C. – Geographic Technologies Group (GTG) is pleased to announce the opening of a new regional office in Los Angeles, California. “GTG is pleased to have an office on the West Coast. Our enterprise software suite has a national clientele. Additionally, we have had numerous consulting engagements in California. Our West Coast office shows our commitment to continued GIS excellence throughout the United States. Our priority is the success of our clients and having a local presence is important in achieving this goal,” said Curt Hinton, President of GTG.

About Geographic Technologies Group, Inc. (GTG):

GTG is a full-service local government GIS consulting company offering specialized experience in the planning, design, implementation, and procurement of geo-technologies. GTG has unmatched technical GIS capabilities, demonstrated successes, international experience, and a reputation for successfully implementing the right solutions. GTG develops GIS products that spatially enable various enterprise solutions and integrates an organization's IT investment via a common interface. GTG also offers stand-alone products for land management, public safety, public access, touch screen technology, and utilities.

GTG has more than 700 clients located throughout North America and Europe and serves all levels of government as well as the private sector. To support our clients, GTG maintains four offices located across the United States: Headquarters in North Carolina, and regional offices in Texas, Florida, Ohio, and California.
